

Beauty in Sight

Ariana Ananda Muresan

“Dark and light, bad and good, are not different but one and the same” – Heraclitus

Beyond the night of your heart
The stars in your eyes
Sing stories of light.

Beyond the fog of your face
The moon in your smile
Reveals clear paths and still skies.

Beyond the storms of your mouth
The sun in your sigh
Draws rainbows through time.

Through storms and through fog,
Through the darkest of nights,
Your beauty's in sight
(Oh, bright beauty inside!)
