

Monkey Business

Pierre Béthel

It came to our attention that a new Romanian site, called “Regnabit,” was created. The site dares to affirm that it is a “Journal of metaphysics and spirituality.” We know that at least one of the individuals who support this site has stolen articles and ideas from Oriens. But we never imagined such a dishonorable “imitation,” regarding the name and the topic.

We must caution our readers that Oriens has nothing to do with this pseudo-traditional and pseudo-spiritual site, a site where you can notice how ignorance, ineptly and profane concepts, and stolen ideas coexist gaily.

However, this unbelievably incompetent and subversive site is a proof that the “monkey’s way” is wide open.
